Privacy Policy

In accordance with the privacy policy, described in the D. Lgs. of 30 June 2003, n. 196 (law related to the protection of personal data), all the relevant informations concerning the processing of personal data are provided and their security and confidentiality are guaranteed even if they are processed via electronic channels or innovative.

The current regulation impose a greater attention to the collection, cataloging and maintenance of personal data making differences among data types: identifying information and sensitive data. These are the ones that may reveal racial or ethnic origin, religious, philosophical or other beliefs, political opinions, membership of parties, trade unions, associations or organizations of a religious, philosophical, political or trade union membership and personal data disclosing health and sex life.

These data are not requested from us, either directly or indirectly and in the case were randomly given at the time of registration and collection of personal data, even by the will of the person concerned will not be registered or maintained in any way.

In particular, any interested party may contact SYSBIO, in the way indicated in the footer of this document to get, among other things, confirmation of the existence or otherwise of the processing of their personal data and to obtain information on the origin, purpose and methods of treatment, and he has also right to request cancellation, transformation into anonymous form or blocking of data processed in violation of the law and updating, rectification or, where interested therein, integration of the data.

Interested parties may also object to the processing for the purpose of sending advertising materials or direct selling or for carrying out market research or commercial communication.

Specifically, it should be noted that the data collected on this site are intended only to ensure the operations of the powers granted by the site itself and for the purposes for which they were granted, and also those of normal communicational relationship.

It follows that the granting of consent to the processing of personal data is necessary for that purpose. In case of refusal or subsequent cancellation, it may not be possible to ensure the continued use of the services offered at the time of registration.

SYSBIO has implemented the legislation in regard to the point relating to the security of the data. The personal data to be processed is stored and controlled in relation to knowledge acquired on the basis of technical progress, the nature of the data and the specific characteristics of the treatment, in order to reduce to a minimum, through the adoption of suitable preventive measures security, the risks of destruction or loss, even accidental, of data, unauthorized access or treatment that is not in accordance with the purposes of the collection.

Any request for information regarding the protection of personal data may be asked, explicitly even if informally to SYSBIO.
